

The whole installation was shrouded with a classical look worthy of one of the great culinary centres of Spain.

FENWICK BAR

When the world-renowned department store needed to create a new curved bar area in their Bienvenido a Fuego restaurant, few manufacturers made such a product. Stellex delivered.

A hi-tech stainless-steel bar incorporating many features was produced in bespoke modular form and installed. The whole installation was then shrouded with a classical look worthy of one of the great culinary centres of Spain.